ARTISTS

Amelie Belcher

Amelie Belcher was born in Baton Rouge Louisiana where the combination of chemical plant fumes and river water did major damage to her fragile little mind at an early age. By all accounts, she started drawing at the age of five and didn't stop drawing until she ran out of paper...twenty years latter.

Amelie taught high school art for four years, but lost interest in teaching when it started cutting into her drinking time. Now known as "the angriest chick on the net", she is the creator of the popular web comic "The Real Life Adventures of Amelie" which can be read at www.cordeval.com.

Steve Bennett

Stephen Robert Bennett IV was born *&#@?! years ago at Tachikawa Air Force Base in Japan. After extensive travels with his family in the military, the family moved back to Japan when Steve was in his teens, and while he was there he was lucky enough to land a job with Studio AoeHYMA, and work under the great Japanese animator, Noboru Furusei (New Dominion Tank Police, Lupin III, etc.) During his time at Studio Aoe-

HYMA, worked on such titles as Cat's Eye, the Urusei Yatsura TV Series and Only You, as well as others.

He started up Studio Ironcat, a Japanese manga publisher, in 1997. Ironcat ran until 2004. Although Steve enjoyed his time with Ironcat, the job kept him too busy to focus on his own art. With the close of Ironcat, Steve was finally free to create his own comics, and get back into the artistic side of the industry. Today, Steve has two new webcomics online ("Shakespeare Rodeo" and "Life With Steve") and is finally letting his creative juices flow!

Svetlana Chmakova

Svetlana Chmakova was born and raised in a small settler colony on the moon, where she first discovered her love of comics when reading contraband issues of ElfQuest.

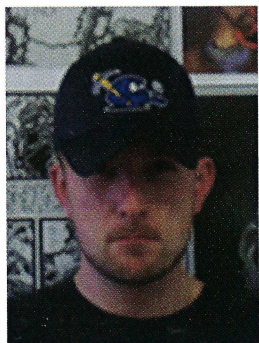

Svetlana has fooled many people into thinking that she can draw and write. The first volume of her manga-style series Dramacon was named one of Best Comics of 2005 by Publishers Weekly, received a MangaCast Yomi award for Best Global Manga of 2006 and was nominated for a Harvey Award for Best New Series in 2006.

Ashley Clark

Ashley Clark is a multi-media artist and has been working in the anime style for nearly a decade. She applies this talent to the web-novel "Shades of Red", for which she is also the writer.

Michael Koneful

Mike has been working as a comic penciler and inker since the mid 1990s, starting out with some of the nuts from Comic Zone, who produced such delightful fare as the Serial Killer Trading Cards, but his first real break came as artist on FLESHEATER, written by Night of the Living Dead zombie Bill Hinzman.

He has since been asked to do nothing but illustrate cartoon zombies. This led to an almost exclusive collaboration with Cry For Dawn co-creator Joe Monks. The two have worked together on AGONY IN BLACK, Zacherley's Midnite Terrors, and their successful little family epic GORY LORI.

Wendy Lo

Wendy Lo and her two Illustrators, Mitsuba and Haruno Ranmaru, teamed up to bring you Cafe Trinity: Serving up a Delicious Selection of Poems to Satisfy all your Senses.

Doug is an accomplished graphic artist, having done anime DVD packaging design for many years.

She now produces an enormous amount of work including Lolita clothing accessories, plush sushi, character pillows, and emotive hackies (emota mochi) to name a few. Her unique style has delighted convention goers across the country.

Sonnie has appeared at conventions large and small as an artist, a dealer, a panelist, and a guest. Her art is always the focal point of any Artist Alley. She has run numerous memorable panels for conventions that bring fresh ideas and always leave the audience entertained. She offers a unique perspective that convention attendants seldom get to see of art, Asian life, and Asian music. Sonnie works hard to increase awareness of Independent Asian music in the United States and brings this knowledge to her presentations. She brings encouragement and guidance to new artists, helping them realize their own dreams through instructional panels and personal support. Finally, underlying all of Sonnie's work is a devotion to broadening the understanding of Asian culture and Asian life in America.

Jan Scott-Frazier

In 1987, Jan's obsession with anime overpowered her common sense (and ardent desire to remain stuck forever as a Radio Shack salesperson) and she moved to Japan to pursue a career in the anime industry. She attended the International Animation Institute where she was made a teacher almost a year before graduation.

She went on to work at a number of small production companies learning about the various stages of the animation production process. Despite the best efforts of the Japanese Immigration Bureau (bad attitude) and the Chinese Army (bad marksmanship) to keep her from her goal, Jan went to work for Artland in 1989 in the production department, a first for a foreigner. She worked on RikiOh 2, Locke the Superman (OVA), Shurato (OVA), Bubblegum Crash (OVA) and Tottoi (feature). Jan founded her own full production company - TAO Corporation Ltd. in Bangkok, Thailand in 1991.

TAO did work on Moldiver, Diary of Mikan, Genocyber and SWAT Kats amongst others. In 1994, Jan moved into consulting work, freelancing for Cambridge Animation Systems the developers of Animo (a computer assisted (2D) animation production system). Also in 1994, Jan co-founded GENESIS Digital Publishing Company with Izumi Matsumoto (Kimagure Orange Road) where they created Comic ON, a CD-ROM manga compendium in which Jan made her manga debut with her original digital graphic novel Transcendence. The first volume of Comic ON was released in 1996 and it went on to be the one of the top selling non-game CD-ROM titles in Japan of that year. In 1995 she went to work for Production I.G (Ghost in the Shell, Blood) as the president of Production I.G. USA and a producer and technical director on the Japanese side. She was technical director of the animation for the Grandstream Saga, Madou Monogatari, and Kyoushin Senki games as well as working on the Panzer Dragoon OVA.

In 1999 Jan directed episodes of Susie-chan & Marvy (TV) and spent most of the year working on the development of original TV series projects. In 2000, Jan moved back to the USA to work at Celsys USA on the development of the next generation of the RETAS digital production system. She continues to develop original projects for television, OVA, music video and feature film release, music videos and commercials.

Jan has traveled extensively throughout Asia and the US teaching animation techniques and speaking at conventions. She has also written and co-written magazine articles and textbooks about cel production, animation, and computer animation. Jan also does body art (both henna art and tattoo design), plans and throws amazing parties, translates Japanese manga and anime shows into English and is working hard to learn to teach yoga. She is currently writing a book about her experiences in the anime industry and cons which will be available in April or May of 2006.

Stephanie Chateau

Stephanie Chateau is a visionary with an artistic mission. The mission is to experiment with various aspects of art and entertainment so that she can create one of a kind experiences that bring peoples fantasies to life by creating worlds outside of reality. She has worked for the interactive haunted production as both scare actor, promotional film extra, and 3rd Party Contractor to Star Souls.

While working for Star Souls Stephanie gained professional experience when required to design an original character and costume many fans now know as simply "The Captain". The Captain has gained recognition not only for her appearances as an iconic hostess for Star Souls venues at trade shows like IAAPA (International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions), but also because she is the principle character of Stephanie's self published manga "Oh, Captain!". She will participate as both Actress and Show Director for what promises to be a very special production you won't want to miss!

Chicken Box

CHICKENBOX! started one day in 1996 when Bob Box was driving in traffic. He started screaming and just didn't stop. This made lots of people very angry at Bob. He needed a way to yell at people without making them mad, so he decided to start a band. As i type this, Bob Box, Dick Chick, and Herb, are hard at work at Stinkybox Studios on the 3rd CHICKENBOX!cd.

In 2006 CHICKENBOX! was voted most likely to eat your food.

Originally from Tokyo, Japan, Lisa began studying the piano at the age of three. She has BA's in Music and Asian Studies from UNC-Chapel Hill, and is an educator and translator as well as a performing songwriter. She has translated everything from pop tunes to state songs into Japanese, and hopes to promote cultural understanding and diversity through music.

J*Scape

J*Scape is a Japanese Rock cover band hailing from sunny South Florida. They cover songs from hit anime such as Naruto, Fullmetal Alchemist, and Beck: Mongolian Chop Squad, as well as by Jrock artists such as An Cafe and the GazettE. They are also known to throw a few alternative rock songs into the mix to change up the set list. After forming in 2006 and with four conventions lined up in 2007, J*Scape is going to rock the Masquerade at JaniCon.

The Notorious MSG

Blasting out of the streets of Chinatown, THE NOTORIOUS MSG have arrived with a vengeance. Serving up deep-fried beats straight from the Chinese ghetto, they will not stop until they achieve complete world domination.

Peelander-Z

PEELANDER-Z, the Japanese Action Comic Punk Band, was formed by Peelander-Yellow, Peelander-Blue, and Peelander-Red (claim they are from Z area in the Planet Peelander!!) in 1998, and came into action based in NYC.

These three dressed up in color-coordinated costumes as if they came out of the Japanese Animation (claim those are not costumes, but the skin!!!) put on a fun entertainment. Yes, their performance is not just playing music. Have you heard of human bowling, wrestling and kung-fu action, or funny dance at the punk rock shows? Peelander-Z knows how to entertain the audience by dragging them into the show. One experience would capture you!! Peelander-Z is the best of the universe!

PLID

PLID is an electro/synth/pop-glam band from Houston, Texas, formed by Chris Patton, Frank Ortiz, and Eric Dano in 2004. In it's inception, PLID's goal was to simply be a studio band, banging out rough and dirty electrosynth beats and soundscapes to make people dance from the comfort of their home studio. They never intended to play live until a major label act found them on MySpace and asked them to open for them in 2006. Since then, PLID has developed a bombastic live show, focused on energizing and tantalizing their audiences, all the while keeping their tight harmonies and addictive hooks intact.

They have shared the stage with electronic music icons My Life With the Thrill Kill Kult, plus other crazy-ass electro bands. Since beginning their life as a live band last year, they have played over 30 shows. JaniCon will mark the 15th stop on their Dream Logic tour, and they're completely stoked to make new fans in Florida!
